

Soulfishing Ministries

VISION

To make fishers of men to reach the lost in NYC and beyond!

MISSION

Our purpose is to partner with today's urban/intercultural church leaders and motivate the Body of Christ to faithfully fulfill the Great Commission. We do this by equipping the local church to do the work of evangelism - to reach the lost, simply, effectively and biblically the way Jesus did.

Phil Sessa & Stephanie Sessa
Soulfishing Ministries

EVANGELIST TRAINER REV. PHIL SESSA

Phil began to share his faith as a new Christian in his teen years on the streets and on his high school campus. He founded a campus ministry, which he battled the school board members on to keep in the school, which they eventually did submit to. Also, since having a background in martial arts, he began Kicking for Christ, an evangelistic martial arts team, (combining a martial arts demonstration with preaching the gospel) calling young people to repent, put their trust in Jesus, and live fully for Him. Upon graduating high school Phil went on to train for the ministry at Valley Forge Christina College, receiving his BS in Pastoral Ministry. While in college, he led various evangelistic teams which witnessed weekly in the local community, the King of Prussia Mall, and to the homeless on the streets of Philadelphia. Phil was introduced to life changing biblical discipleship and the Way of the Master evangelism training by his mentor, David Jackson "CJ".

After college, he received ministry credentials with the New York District Assemblies of God. Phil began to minister as an Assistant Pastor at Pelham Bay Assembly of God in the Bronx, working with serving as a Youth/Children's Pastor, Outreach Pastor, Small Group Facilitator, and Evangelism Trainer/Coach to NYC public school students to be Student Campus Missionaries on their secular campuses. It was also at Pelham Bay AG where he met and married his wife Stephanie, who began to assist him in ministry.

Together, they left Pelham Bay for a season, and began to minister in Harlem, NYC. After approximately four years and knowing the evangelistic call upon Phil's life, he and Stephanie resigned the Pastoral position, and began Soulfishing Ministries. They have ministered throughout New York City, as well as in Philadelphia, in street witnessing, open – air preaching, and utilizing prayer stations. They have trained both residents of New York City as well as missions teams from outside the state to effectively reach the unsaved with the gospel on the streets of New York City. They have worked with various churches and ministries including: Rev. Don Geraci (Jewish Street Evangelism), Missionary Richard DeMartino (Missionary to Mexico), Missionary John Blondo, Missionary partner Rev. Steve Kulish (Intentional Care Urban Ministries) Min. James Bramble (Soul Saving Station), Rev. David Butler (Fullness of Joy Ministries) Evangelist Ray Comfort (Way of the Master Ministries).

Phil is currently listed as an evangelist with the National Evangelists Office. Phil and Stephanie began Soulfishing Ministries in 2007, to equip the local church in biblical evangelism, including street ministry and personal witnessing. Ivan Candelier and Jose Ocasio are Phil's disciples and co-trainers, along with Skit Squad leader, Elissa Candelier. The heart of the ministry is to help rise up evangelism teams in local churches in NYC to reach their neighborhoods with the power of the gospel. Phil currently serves as a middle school NYC teacher in Harlem, and his wife Stephanie serves as NYC Dept. of Ed. Speech Therapist in Coop City, Bronx. They have a one year old baby girl named Makayla that they are raising in the Lord.
